SUMMARY

The Arab renaissance that started appearing in the horizon of the 19th century and the beginning of the 20th century is considered among the principal in the modern Arab history as it has a lot of future effects, and among those who emerged: El Chikh Mohamed Ibn Abdelwahab and El Chikh Mohamed Ben Ali Elssenoussi and M^r Djamel Eddine El Afghani.

Among those who followed this way, there was El Chikh Tahar El Djazairi whome we are studying today to identify his personality and his role in this movement since he is one of its fondator.

Despite all what was written about the modern Arab renaissance, we still notice that an important part from it did not receive importance in research. Which is the significant role of Tahar El Djazairi on whome we have only mentioned superficial writings that lack scientific precision.

Our research is based on the person of Tahar El Djazairi his mending role in the Arab orient especially (sham) where he was born and made reformat work.

The Aims of the research:

There are a lot of aims that helped me choosing this research:

- my personal interest for the historical personalities, and El Chikh Tahar Eldjazairi presents a circle in the chain of Arab rebels as El Amir Abdelkader, Ahmed Orabi, Mohamed Abdou.
- Nearly all the Algerian researchers did not mention the topics in relation with the modern orient history despite the fact that the Islamic countries represent one world.
- Also this research will lead us to know the heritage El Chikh Tahar. Who played an important role in the events of his century, socially, culturally and politically and all what was written about him was really insufficient.

Problematic of the research:

Problematic of our research is based on the contribution of El Chikh Tahar in the modern Arab renaissance and the reform movement and what is his position among reformers who worked to change the conditions of their nations.

- Our study today about him is a certitude to his role since he surpassed some reformers but didnt get what he really deserves.

I have devided the research into four principal chapters and an introductory chapter.

In the Intoductory chapter I took three great reformers as example because of their big role in the renaissance of the Islamic Arab nation and I mean: El Chikh Ben Abdelwahab (1703-1791), El Chikh Mohamed Ben Ali Seoussi (1787-1859) and Mr. Djamel eddine El Afghani (1839-1897) and the aim from this is to mention the reform situation that precede the appearence of CHikh Tahar.

In the first chapter I took the Algerian emigration to the Arab orient and then the life of El Chikh Tahar with more details.

And in the second chapter, I treated his educational, and cultural. role as spreading knowledge, building schools and writing books.

In the third chapter I talked about his political role through his participations in the associations and political parties, in addition to his position in from me European colonialism.

In the fourth chapter and the last I tried to compare the thought of El Chikh Tahar with other reformers like Mr. Ojamel eddine El Afghani (1839-1897) and Mohamed Abdou(1849-1905) and Abderahman El Kawakibi (1854-1901) and also studied the effect of Tahar in his students.

At the end of my research, I have known that Tahar's personality with a various sides needs more study in all the fields of knowledge. Since he is at the level. Of the great reformers thanks to his educational, cultural, and political activities. And there are other sides in his life that needs an extra study.
